On the edge

Fashion trunk show

Fair weather is here (at least temporarily) giving us an excuse to shop for spring clothing. What better place to browse through the new fashions than a Spring Trunk Show? John Patrick boutique at Newton Plaza in Latham will hold its show from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Thursday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and next Saturday (April 8).

The women's spring and summer apparel features designers such as Ginny H, John Patrick, White + Warren and a + eve. Also available are fashions from Lacoste, Juicy Couture and Tory Burch.

Customers can receive a John Patrick gift card toward future purchases depending on the amount spent. For information, call 782-0657. cq cq STYL not found bc

Makeup fixative

Few things are more annoying than makeup that looks great in the morning but gets blotchy and smudged after several hours. Especially if you haven't got time to reapply.

Regal Beauty Inc. has come up with a product called Model in a Bottle - a spray that's misted over a fully made up face to keep foundation, eye makeup and SPF products in place throughout the day.

Once makeup is on and mascara is dry, Model in a Bottle can be applied with four to five sprays. It also contains aloe vera for added moisture and a clean scent.

"When you mist a moisturizing spray on over a made-up face it helps to set the makeup and reduce the powdery look" says Denise Dubois, owner of Complexions Spa for Beauty and Wellness in Colonie.

Each bottle sells for $18 and the product is available at <http://www.modelinabottle.com>. cq cq STYL not found bc

Scalp grooming products

True or False: Bald people don't need shampoo or other head-related grooming products.

False.

"When you are bald you need to keep your skin clean, but also protected and healthy," says Jon Wafer, owner of Tru' Images barber shop in Albany. "(A bald scalp) is exposed more to the elements, such as sun and wind."

Which is why Howard Brauner created a line called Bald Guyz grooming products.

The line includes a shampoo rich in vitamins and proteins to help keep the scalp soft and prevent flaking. The moisture gel made from green tea and herbal moisturizers keeps the bald scalp supple. Head wipes cleanse and help to prevent the shiny look and the sunscreen is formulated not to run when the scalp sweats.

Bald Guyz products are available in drugstores and supermarkets and range in price from $4.99 to $9.99.
